power
physical coercion
violence
power by words;
language-action power
informal:
social NORM
required to do
permitted to do
formal:
given STATUS
authorized to do
obliged to do
project manager
new definition or project management;
in terms of LANGUAGE-ACTION POWERs
1
authorization to create and maintain a temporary organization that will be conducive to reaching the predefined project goals 2
authorization to create and maintain a set of activities that will be conducive to reaching the predefined project goals 3
authorization to make all stakeholders behave according to the structure and rules the temporary organization 4
authorization to make all stakeholders perform the set of activities 5
obligation to do all this in such a way as to honour the preset conditions 6
obligation to report to sponsor on how you are doing in all of the above